(Past simple & Continuous; Past Perfect Simple & Continuous)

This unit is about travelling, journeys and trips. We will begin by looking at the reasons people have for travelling and then move on to a special kind of travelling: exploration. We will write a story about a special trip we have made with our families. We will read about another special kind of journey, the gap year between school and university and discuss different ways of getting around. We will finish the unit by writing an opinion text on the benefits of travel.
